In 1901 he removed to Edmonton.

Rumor Denied.

Toronto, Jan. 28.—The Montreal Star made the statement yesterday that the Canadian Northern is to be sold to the Grand Trunk for $418,000, and that Mr. William Mackenzie is on his way to England to complete the deal.

Grand Trunk officials at Montreal declare that they know nothing about the matter.

D. D. Mann says: "There is absolutely nothing in it. It is true that Mr. Mackenzie is on his way to England, but not on business in connection with the Canadian Northern. I may say that we have had no negotiations of any kind with the Grand Trunk since August last."

HOCKEY.

Last night Edmonton second hockey team visited Strathcona to try conclusions with the second team of that town for the set of medals put up by A. C. Rutherford, M. L. A. A good game was put up by either side and at the time the score was a tie, 6-6. It was agreed to play for one goal more, which was won by Strathcona, giving them the victory with a score of 7-6.

The second game of the series will be played on Edmonton ice next Wednesday night and promises to be a close contest. Edmonton put up a good standing considering that the team were nearly all young players, only two ever having played on the first team and one of those but once, while Strathcona played four first team men.

The second game in the Houson shield series will be played by the first teams on Monday night at Strathcona. A special train will be run on the E. & N. P.

LESSER SLAVE TAKE.

Arrivals from the Lesser Slave lake report an open winter in that region. There is very little snow until the Athabasca river, within forty miles of the landing, is reached. Snow is much deeper at Edmonton than at Lesser Slave lake.

At Grand Prairie, Peace river, cattle had not been fed to New Year's. Crops were good last season and the acreage at the lake was double that of former years. At Grand Prairie oats ran 60 bushels to the acre.

The fur catch is quite up to the average, and the prospects of the Indians are good.

No flour is being imported by traders with Peace river, as the local crop ground at the local mill supplies the demand.

The settlers both at Lesser Slave lake and Peace river are arranging to bring in imported stock.

The Peace river country is attracting a great deal of outside attention at present, and many letters of enquiry are received by residents.

The Roman Catholic mission is putting a screw steamer on Peace river. The hull and part of the machinery is already at Peace river crossing and the remainder of the machinery is on the way. The hull was built at Peterborough, Ont., and the machinery is from the Polson Iron Works, Toronto. The boat will be 65 feet long and will be ready for work as soon as the ice moves out of the Peace. It will have a run of almost 500 miles from the chutes below Fort Vermilion to the Rocky Mountain Portage above Hudson's Hope. This will be the first steamer on the Peace above the chutes. There are many freighers of the trail to Slave lake. The rate is $2.00 per hundred pounds from Edmonton.

POROKA.

Herald, Jan. 30.
Thos. McKelvey, of Blain & McKelvey for whom Buck & Koster are getting out logs, was down the first of the week to see how things were moving. He found everything most satisfactory and the camp already has some 600,000 feet of logs out. Lowen & Co. will do the sawing for them beginning as soon as the logs can be driven here in the spring.

Cook & Zuehlke's saw mill has pulled down from Pigeon lake and are now stationed at M. R. Hooper's place, northwest of town where they have some 200,000 feet of lumber to saw for the people of that vicinity, which will be used for the improvement of the estate here in the spring.

W. V. Bennett, government immigration agent at Omaha, was here this week.

Had luck never come single, R. N. Hooper purchased a cow, J. S. Beal's, and next morning found her dead in the barn. At the same sale he bought a fine horse and a few mornings ago found him in the barn with his legs broken necessitating his being killed.

In crossing Pigeon lake on the ice last week the Cook & Zuehlke saw mill engine broke through the ice in four feet of water. It took about seven hours to get her out which was done by Jack Brown.

Cook Myer's family were released from quarantine Monday. The folks all got along nicely and Cook says the small pox is not nearly so much to be dreaded as the thought of having to be quarantined for so long.

One of the saddest accidents yet reported in the vicinity of Ponoka occurred last Friday when the little 11 month old baby of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Erbauer met its death by drowning.

In a candy pail. The particulars so far as we are able to learn are that Mrs. Bremer left the little one alone in the house to go to the barn. She had not been gone to exceed five minutes when she returned to find little one in the pail dead. The child was just learning to walk, and while attempting to walk during her mother's absence fell head long into the pail in which there was about an inch of water.

The family of A. L. Ball has been in a critical state since our last issue. Mrs. Ball, all six of the children and Mrs. R. H. Duffell have all been victims to diphtheria, fever and small pox.

There is no secret about it. This is how it is done. On Dec. 10th, we loaded one car from beds, springs and mattresses. On Dec. 14th, one car kitchen chairs, tables and benches. On Dec. 17th, one car bedroom, dressing and bathroom furniture. On Dec. 20th one car of library and drawing room furniture. And having no more furniture means business is slow going. The Grain Blockade

The following is part of a letter appearing recently in the Farmers' Sun of Toronto, from a farmer at Sinaluta, Assa, setting forth the conditions prevailing there as a result of the car shortage. The facts set forth are the strongest evidence that the Northwest must have for its development not only more railways but more railway companies, and more control by the people over the actions of those companies:

Here is an illustration which, unless there be gross discrimination between shipping points, fairly portrays the general situation.

Sinaluta is a small village on the main line of the C. P. R., 300 miles west of Winnipeg, and the center of a typical wheat country.

The majority of the settlers, here as elsewhere in the West, despite the well-published prosperity of individuals, is mainly made up of those who, finding the task of home-making too hard in the older settled districts, gathered their scanty stock of worldly goods together and went forth with their families into the wilderness to try to establish themselves as freemen, owners of the homes they live in and the lands they till, untroubled by debt and dependence.

In most instances their sole revenue is from wheat. During a short summer every nerve must be strained to produce as much of that commodity as possible. Then in the early winter, when, thrashing is over, and the land payments, the implement and horse notes, the fuel, the lumber and general store bills are coming due and the high-priced harvest help and the threshing wages is to be paid, they must team their wheat to Sinaluta, perhaps thirty miles, that they may convert it into money to meet their obligations.

Convert it into money! Ay, "there's the rub!"

Last year there was shipped from Sinaluta, in round numbers, 900,000 bushels of wheat. Much of this was marketed last summer owing to the inadequate shipping facilities during the previous winter. Thus many men were compelled to spend the winter in enforced idleness, because, apart from hauling their wheat, they have no remunerative occupation, and then to team their wheat during a summer all too short for the necessary preparation of the land, thereby lessening their prospects for the coming year.

This year, with a portion of last year's grain still unmarketed there have only been furnished sufficient cars to move 90,000 bushels, not one-tenth of the crop. Scores of farmers have not been able to market a bushel so far this year at any price. The greater part which has been sold was secured by the operators of line elevators at a price from 8 to 11 cents per bushel less than the price at Fort William and other competitive points warranted them in paying—that is to say, the farmer was short of half the profit he could have made if cars had been available when required to forward his wheat.

And what of the future?

At the present rate at which cars are furnished to shippers at this point it will take several years to move the wheat now in the farmers' hands.

New French Liberal Daily

Montreal, Que., Jan. 26.—Le Canada is the name chosen for the new French paper to be published in Montreal in the interests of the liberal party. There are still many details to be completed before it makes its first appearance, which it will it is said in a few weeks.

It is announced officially that Godfrey Langlois, editor-in-chief of Le Patriote, will be managing editor, and Marc Savard, will be editorial writer and political correspondent. Another point definitely settled is that the new paper will be published in the morning.

The funds for the enterprise are being subscribed by friends of the party who will be shareholders. From among them will be chosen a committee or syndicate composed of ten members, who will have control of the paper, and the views it is to voice. Just who will form part of this committee, has not been decided.

The Preference Tariff

Ottawa, Jan. 26.—New South Wales is no longer on the list of countries to which the Canadian preferential tariff applies, an order in council withdrawing the preference from this colony having just been passed by the Dominion government. The commonwealth tariff, which was finally adopted on Sept. 16, last, applies to all the Australian states, including New South Wales, hence the government's action.

It is said here that negotiations may be commenced at an early date looking to a mutual preferential trade arrangement between Canada and Australia. The only countries to which the preference now applies are the United Kingdom, British India, Ceylon, Straits Settlements and West Indies.

M and M For Australia

Toronto, Jan. 27.—Wm. MacKenzie has gone to London to consider the feasibility of tendering for the construction of the Australian transcontinental line.

PARTRIDGE HILL

We saw an item in last week's paper stating that a certain man had observed a flock of robins on the street. The weather this past week leads us to think that either the man or the robins made some mistake.

Our school opened on 26th, with Mr. McCallum, of Beaver Lake, as teacher. A meeting of the ratepayers of township 54, range 22, was held at Mr. Jos. Alton's on 21st, and resulted in the election of Mr. David Simmons as road overseer.

A carnival will be held on Stuekey's slough on Feb. 6th, by the base ball boys. Lunch will be served and a good time is expected by the lovers of skating.

D. Alton, of Calgary, and Mr. Jos. Alton, of Strathcona, spent a few days visiting friends here.

A parlor social under the auspices of the girls bible class will be held at the home of Mr. John Alton on the evening of Feb. 20. A short musical and literary programme will be rendered by the members of the class. Those young ladies will also provide luncheon and games for the amusement of those attending. Admission 25c. THE TERRITORIES NOT ALONE

DEMAND INCREASED SUBSIDY
Ottawa, Ont., Jan. 27.—The interview of the provincial representatives with Sir Wilfrid Laurier and colleagues, will be held this afternoon. All the provinces have concurred in the resolution adopted, the Quebec favors subsidizing the provincial subsidies, and that is the main item of their request. Premier Ross says if the provincial delegates' proposition is accepted, it will mean an increase of $600,000 in the grant to Ontario alone, and the proportion will be the same for other provinces.

RAFFLE NOMINATIONS

Cashed in Custody

Ponoka Herald.
Ernest Cashed, who has for some time caused the authorities no end of trouble, is now under lock and key in Calgary.

Cashed, who came originally from Buffalo, Wyoming, and who up to some time ago resided with his family in the neighborhood of Ponoka, was arrested in October last by Chief Higgins at Ponoka on the charge of having forged the name of John Phelan, a Sheppard farmer, to a check which he negotiated in Calgary. While in custody on his way to Calgary, Cashed jumped the train while in motion, and up to Saturday last succeeded in evading arrest.

A short time ago an information was laid by a settler named Healy, residing at Springbank, charging a man who went by the name of Bert Ellsworth, with the theft of a horse and a warrant was issued for Ellsworth's arrest. The warrant was placed in the hands of the mounted police, who from the description given and other information, came to the conclusion that Ellsworth was no other than an alias adopted by Cashed. They also discovered that Ellsworth, or Cashed was also known as Nick Carter, and that Nick Carter had been living in the neighborhood of Calgary for a considerable time in the knowledge of the city police, from whom they complain they could receive no information as to his whereabouts.

Cashed, Sanders traced Carter west from Calgary and located plainclothes constables at different points along the line with this result that Constable Elythe located the man at Anthracite on Saturday and arrested him and handed him over to Constable Thomas, who lodged him in the guard room at Calgary. Cashed is also suspected of complicity in the murder of a man named Smith, who resided at Fair Creek.

RED DEER

Grain is moving slowly around here as yet. The price is not enough to pay the farmers to haul it in, although some have started to haul to the elevator this week.

A number of delegates from Igoua and some of the other northern States are in town this week looking over the surrounding country. They report favorably on what they have seen and say that there will be a large immigration to this district in the spring.

Thos. Gourd is building a large residence on the corner of Main St. and Norton Ave.

The weather has turned colder here this week. Monday night it was 23 degrees below zero, there being, however, no wind with it.

Zamleck, the magician, gave three grand performances here this week, which were highly appreciated by those present.

A large gang of men left this week for Wm. Jarvis's lumber camp near the Rocky Mountain House. They intend being gone about three months.

Wilson's (Ten Nights in a Bar Room) will play here on Monday next. It is to be hoped they will do better than they have been doing lately along the line here.

At a hockey match played between Lacombe and Red Deer here on Saturday night last, Red Deer won by a score of 7 to 4. A return match is to be played at Lacombe this Saturday.

Great excitement was caused on Sunday morning last at the Indian Industrial school, three miles west of here, when the assistant principal's wife, Mrs. James Mitchell, was found dead in her bed. Dr. Davidson at once held an inquest and a verdict was brought in by the jury of death caused by heart disease. The burial took place on Monday at the school.

THE FORT PITT COLONY

Toronto News despatch.
The Rev. J. M. Barr, the Anglican clergyman, at one time a Toronto university student, then of Oakville and later of Tennessee, says he has 3,000 English people ready to sail from Liverpool to St. John, en route to Saskatchewan, March 21, by the Beaver steamer. I have just interviewed Mr. Barr, who says the party is composed of some of the best blood of England. The capital taken out by the emigrants is over $500,000. The idea of a homogeneous English settlement has appealed to the best class. Mr. Barr is assisted by the Rev. Mr. Lloyd, formerly chaplain of the Queen's Own, who fought at Cut Knife creek, and was wounded there. There is no religious or other qualification demanded of the emigrants, except that of being thoroughbred English.
